Michigan Agri-Business Association PAC endorses Congresswoman Candice Miller for Macomb County Drain Commissioner

Miller's fluency in water quality, infrastructure issues will set stage for future economic growth

LANSING – Bruce Sutherland, chairman of the Michigan Agri-Business Association AGRI-BIZ PAC, today announced the endorsement of Congresswoman Candice Miller for Macomb County Drain Commissioner, a post Sutherland said would benefit from Miller's strong understanding of water policy and commitment to smart infrastructure growth.

“Thanks to her years of leadership in Congress, willingness to ask tough questions, and interest in helping grow Michigan agriculture, Candice Miller enjoys the strong trust and support of agribusiness leaders across our state,” said Sutherland. “Candice Miller will be ready from Day One to provide leadership and help in solving complex challenges on water quality, infrastructure and beyond.”

“Infrastructure is front and center for our agriculture industry, and many other sectors of the economy, and Candice Miller is well prepared to seek solutions,” he said. “Candice Miller has devoted an incredible amount of time in Congress to learning about, and leading on, the critical infrastructure issues that can make or break economic growth.”

“Michigan agriculture needs leaders we can work hand-in-glove with to solve pressing issues, including protecting our Great Lakes, and there's no question Candice Miller will bring folks to the table and identify commonsense solutions,” said Tim Boring, Vice President of the Michigan Agri-Business Association. “Candice Miller understands it takes ‘all hands on deck,’ from urban and rural areas alike, to solve pressing challenges. As Drain Commissioner, she would provide sorely needed leadership to address water quality challenges and protect our water.”
